Texan Confesses 'Drawer' Slaying

Victor Lively Admits He Killed Poore Girl; Married 6 Times

VICTOR LIVELY

St. Louis, July 24 (AP)—Victor Lively, 32-year-old Texan who admitted the "dresser-drawer" slaying of a teen-age girl in an Indianapolis hotel, will be returned to the scene of the crime today.

The short and stocky Lively, in a signed statement yesterday, admitted killing 18-year-old Dorothy Poore three hours after he was seized by two St. Louis county deputy sheriffs while walking on a highway.

Deputies said Lively told them he became enraged when the girl protested about his drinking and that he choked her "three or four minutes until she was dead."

The body of the Clinton, Ind., high school graduate was discovered in a dresser drawer at the Claypool Hotel in downtown Indianapolis last Sunday, three days after she was slain. It was clad in bra, panties and slip.

Identified by Bellhop
Indianapolis Detective Sgts. Harold Goodman and Randolph Schubert arrived here late last night to return Lively there. He has waived extradition.

The two detectives brought Bruno Widman, 30-year-old Claypool Hotel bellhop with them and said he identified Lively as the man who registered at the hotel under the name of "Jack O'Shea."

Lively, who has unusually muscular arms and is 5 foot 3 inches tall, said he picked up the Poore girl earlier on the day of her death, in a hamburger stand in downtown Indianapolis.

Lively said he had been married six times and had one child. He was carrying a loaded .32 caliber automatic wrapped in a money sack and newspapers when arrested.

Officer Cleared; To Try Sergeant

Ft. Dix, N. J., July 24 (AP)—A combat-tested infantry officer today stood vindicated of charges he permitted trainees of his command to be held at ramrod-straight attention for nearly an hour in 92-degree heat.

A special court-martial board of eight fellow officers cleared 1st Lt. Robert S. Morgan of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., of the allegation yesterday after he denied having had anything to do with the June 21 incident.

Still to be tried by court-martial is Morgan's administrative aide, Sgt. I.C. Richard J. Witbeck of Wellington, Ohio, who one recruit described as "sadistic" and the man he thought gave the order for the formation.

Morgan and Witbeck were formally charged with "dereliction of duty" and alleged mistreatment of personnel, respectively, after 225 trainees were kept at attention in the sweltering heat of June 21 for an unexplained breach of discipline.

Several Passed Out
A number of the men, members of Company "H," 272nd Infantry Regiment, reportedly passed out in the hot sun.

Several prosecution witnesses testified that non-commissioned officers, on Morgan's orders, threw pails of water on the prostrate recruits to revive them and then made them get back into formation.

The board deliberated an hour in acquitting Morgan after a two-day hearing.

Eight of 18 Aboard Plane Rescued; Formal Protest Will Be Made

Hong Kong, July 24 (AP)—A big British Skymaster airliner carrying 18 persons was shot down off the Red Chinese island of Hainan yesterday, and Great Britain instructed its charge d'affaires in Peiping to protest the attack.

"The two aircraft which attacked the plane could not have come from anywhere else than from Hainan, according to our information from Hong Kong," a London Foreign Office spokesman said.

Later, a qualified diplomatic informant said descriptions of the fighter planes given by those aboard the airliner included a statement that the attackers were marked with red stars. The red star is a universal Communist symbol.

The Hong Kong government announced earlier that there was "substantial evidence" that two unidentified fighters shot down the airliner.

Eight of the 18 persons aboard the airliner were rescued.

In London, the Foreign Office spokesman said the British government acted on the basis of statements from the pilot and co-pilot of the Skymaster.

Formal Protest
He said Charge d'Affaires Humphrey Trevelyan has been instructed to draft a formal protest and it presumably would be delivered to Red China later today.

Hainan, which lies about 200 miles southwest of here, is the site of several large Communist military air bases.

High government officials met today amid reports that airliners leaving this British Crown colony would be given fighter escort. The report drew an official "no comment" and planes left at intervals with no fighters in evidence.

The pilot of the airliner reportedly said in a formal statement that he was attacked by two fighter planes whose markings he could not distinguish and whose pilots he did not see to ascertain nationality.

There was no immediate explanation as to why he failed to mention an attack in his distress signal yesterday.

Chief Stewardess Iris E. Stobart of Cathay Pacific Airlines said bullets were removed today from two of the eight survivors picked up by a U. S. Air Force SA16 Albatross rescue plane.

Two doctors said one man suffered what might have been a bullet wound, but that no bullets were recovered.

J. Thorburn, Hong Kong bank official whose wife was rescued, said a bullet struck her a glancing blow above the ear.

Hit by Bullets
He quoted her as saying bullets splattered among the passengers and unquestionably a number were hit. He said his wife doubted that others were able to escape before the four-engine airliner went to the bottom of the South China Sea.

Commercial airline routes from Malaya, Indochina and Thailand to Hong Kong normally detour Hainan to the seaward side, but lately some planes have cut the detour short and flown up the east coast of Hainan just offshore, sources here said.

Since the Communists traditionally use 12 miles as the territorial limit this practice would involve some risk.

Six Americans were among the 18 persons aboard the plane, five of them members of the

South Carolina Girl Voted World's Most Beautiful

Long Beach, Calif., July 24 (AP)—A freckled daughter of the confederacy, who has more curves than the Dixie highway, today holds the twin titles of Miss U.S.A. and Miss Universe.

Miriam Stevenson, a 21-year-old college senior from Winnsboro, S. C., last night made the first grand sweep in the three-year history of the International Beauty Contest.

Runners-up to the winsome southern lass were Maria Martha Rocha of Brazil, Virginia June Lee of Hong Kong, Regina Ernst of Bremen, Germany, and Ragdild Clauson of Sweden—in that order.

Miss Stevenson not only was voted the world's most beautiful woman but also got back her luggage, lost ever since she arrived here a week ago yesterday.

She said that first of all "I want to thank South Carolina for giving me the opportunity to come here." Then to reporters she said:

"If you all ever come down to South Carolina, I'll cook you the biggest heppin' plate of corn pone, hominy grits an' ham hocks you evah saw."

Miss Stevenson has blue eyes and blond hair, stands 5 feet 6 and weighs 120. She measures 36 inches at the bust and hips and 24 inches at the waist.

In the movies she would be considered the wholesome, All-American Girl type—healthy, handsome and happy. She says she has no steady boy friend.

Miss Stevenson said her senior year at Lander College in Greenwood, S. C., will have to wait a while because:

"I want to take a crack at this actin' business."

Miss Stevenson said she would like to go back to her home town for a short visit before taking up a movie contract, but a spokesman for U-I chimed in quickly: "Honey, you report to work Monday."

The Miss Universe and Miss U.S.A. crowns carry with them almost identical sets of prizes. Each set includes $4,000 convertible, a 13-week contract at Universal-International Movie Studio and about a half dozen pieces of jewelry.

Whether Miss Stevenson will receive both sets is uncertain. Judges meet today to decide.

Keator Remains Head Of County Volunteers

Andrew Murphy, Field Tax Agent, Legionnaire Dies

Was Outstanding Athlete for Ulster Academy; Held Main Posts in 40 and 8

Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., 62, of 79 Lucas avenue, a prominent member of service organizations since World War I and one-time athletic star, died Friday after a brief illness.

At the time of his death, Murphy was employed as a field collector for the U. S. Internal Revenue Department.

He is survived by his son, Andrew Murphy III, who is the city's Superintendent of Recreation; also four grandchildren.

A World War I veteran, Murphy had served with distinction in several offices of the American Legion and La Societe des 40 Hommes and 8 Chevaux (40 & 8).

Adjutant Over 20 Years
A past commander of Kingston Post, No. 150, American Legion, he had served as adjutant of the post for more than 20 years. He was a past Chief de Gare (New York state president) of the 40 & 8 Society; also a past Cheminot National (national committeeman) of that organization.

Fraternally he was affiliated with Kingston Council No. 275, Knights of Columbus; Kingston Lodge No. 550, BPOE Elks, and was a member of the National Association of Internal Revenue Employees.

In his youth he was associated with his father, Andrew Murphy, in the operation of a stationery and sporting goods store on the Strand.

Prominent Athlete
It was in the field of athletics that he earned considerable prominence. A graduate of Ulster Academy in 1911, he attended Cornell University on a football scholarship. Later he was a member of the team which won the Navy football title during World War I.

Mr. Murphy was a standout

Association Roster Is Reported as 825 Men; Parade Scheduled Today at 5 p. m.

Lee Keator, who served last year as president of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association, was named temporary president of the association Friday evening at the convention business session in New Paltz. Keator was continued as president until September when the association, will hold a meeting and a successor will probably be elected at that time.

The election of Keator became effective when no representation from Marlborough was present and the convention did not know the intentions of that department which was in line to be honored by having a member elected to the presidency.

Harder Chosen 14th Time
Eldred Smith of Modena was elected first vice president. Fred C. Harder of Kingston was elected secretary for the fourteenth time and Henry DuBois of New Paltz was returned to the office of treasurer for the tenth term. Lee Keator was elected director for the five-year term.

There were 40 companies represented at the business meeting.

Frank G. Elliott supervisor of the town of New Paltz was unable to be present due to illness and Judge Irving C. Barnes welcomed the convention to New Paltz. Judge Barnes was selected to represent Supervisor Elliott, he being the senior member of the town board of New Paltz. Judge Barnes said he considered it an honor to have been selected to represent Supervisor Elliott.

Oil Fire Demonstration
Prior to opening of the business meeting a demonstration on extinguishing an oil fire was conducted by Chief Lawson Upright of Gardiner, using a type of foam. The demonstration was largely attended and proved to be of intense interest to the firemen.

At the business session President Keator presided.

During the meeting visiting members were cautioned to drive carefully and to from the convention and particularly use caution in the operation of equipment which will participate in the parade this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Excessive use of the siren on the highway was condemned.

Members 825
The Ulster County Association has a membership of 825, representing 65 volunteer companies. Each company is represented at the convention by two official delegates.

Secretary Harder reported the death of four members of the association, David Meller and Byron C. Wells of the Woodstock department, Clarence Barber of Kingston and Louis Hornbaster of Rifton.

No decision was made at the meeting as to where the next meeting will be held.

Long Hours of Talk Keep Up on Atom Power Plan

Market Hits New High In Advance

Top Weekly Volume Is Recorded in Nearly Three Years Despite Various Handicaps

New York, July 24 (AP)—The stock market was whip-sawed by conflicting pressures this week, but it scored another new high mark despite all handicaps.

It was the market's sixth straight weekly advance, and the swing ahead was negotiated with the highest weekly volume in nearly three and a half years.

High volume in a rising market is considered quite bullish. Buyers and sellers all week moved from one section of the market to another seeking strong points and searching for weaknesses.

They found plenty of divisions and individual issues that were ripe for their attention.

The net result was a gain of 80 cents in the Associated Press average which closed the week at $131.40, highest mark since Oct. 22, 1929.

Truce Hurdle Made
The cease-fire in Indochina was a mighty high hurdle for the market to take, but it took it. Green in the memory of traders were the slashing reactions in the stock market that accompanied twists and turns in negotiations for a cease-fire in Korea.

There were fears that such a thing might happen now in connection with Indochina. It didn't. Aircrafts were hit hard as might be expected. Their reaction, however, could have come at any time because of the unusual strength shown by them in recent weeks. It really wasn't too bad, and the weakness there didn't spread to other sections of the list at all.

Real highlight of the week was the soaring bull movement in steels when the magic word "merger" was mentioned. Early in the week, rumors circulated linking the names of Bethlehem Steel and Youngstown Sheet & Tube—the number two and the number six companies in the business.

They didn't catch fire until the latter part of the week. Then those two stocks shot ahead and pulled all of the other steels up with them. By the time the market ended this week's trading, the merger rumors still were in the rumor stage, and the two featured stocks and others had subsided somewhat.

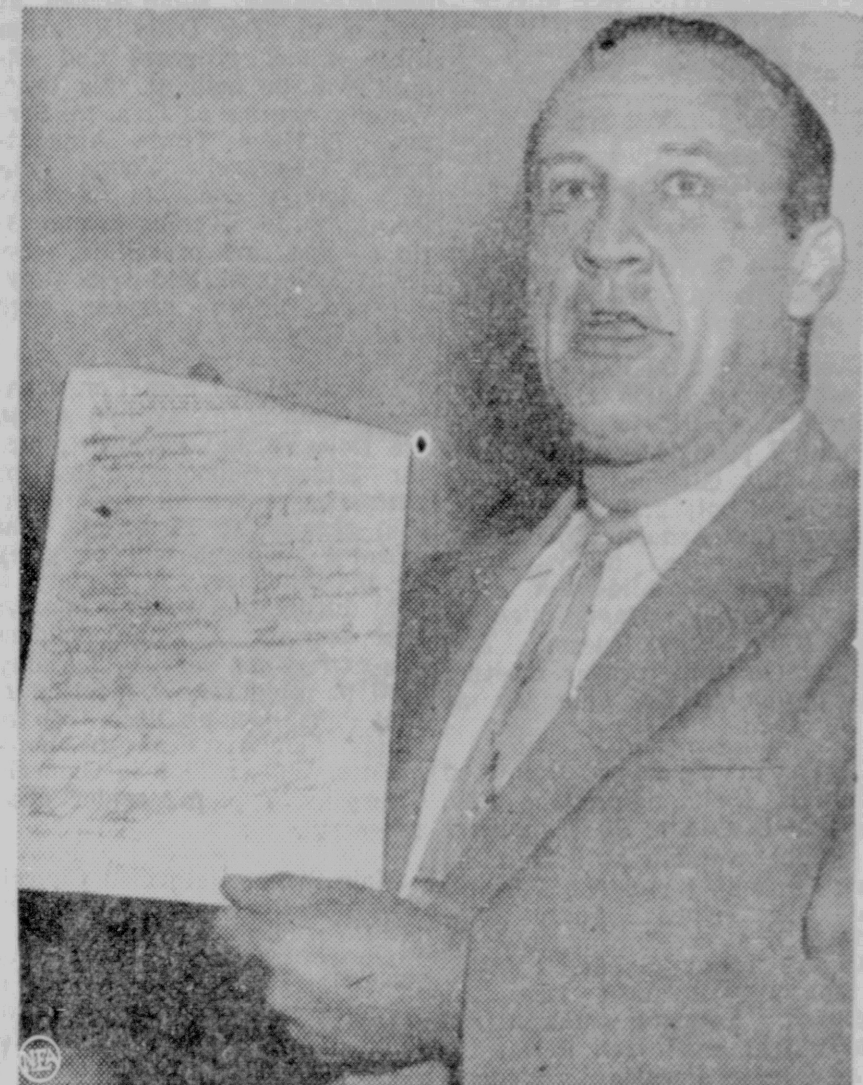

Traders Move Quickly
Traders were quick to get into the steels. They remembered well the swift profits rolled up on merger reports in textiles and motors in recent days.

Second quarter earnings had a varied effect on the market. Some wide gains and losses were presented, distortions aroused by the lapse of the excess profits tax. There also was a blow-hold-slow situation coming from congressional consideration of tax relief on dividends.

A newcomer to the list on Tuesday was Royal Dutch Petroleum, one of the largest oil

Wheat Vote Means High Parity Price

Also Indicates Rigid Control on Farmers' Crops for 1955

Washington, July 24 (AP)—The nation's wheat growers have voted once again to accept controls on their next year's crop—but the margin was the thinnest ever.

The outcome means that the government will continue paying high support prices for wheat—somewhere between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. The rate is not yet decided.

But it also means that, in Secretary of Agriculture Benson's own terms, controls on what the farmer can plant in 1955 will be the toughest ever.

Growers supporting controls cast 73.3 per cent of the vote in yesterday's referendum, the Agriculture Department calculated early today. Since a favorable vote of 66.7 per cent was needed to continue controls, the margin was thin indeed—much slimmer than was expected from advance indications.

Some 267,000 farmers voted—a light turnout. Nearly a million were eligible by virtue of planting more than 15 acres of wheat.

Had controls been rejected, the support price of wheat would have dropped to 50 per cent of parity—the standard said by law to give farmers a fair return for wheat.

Sweeping Check Ordered
Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has ordered a sweeping loyalty investigation of all West German officials who were friendly with John.

Monopoly Charged by Opponents

Eisenhower Measure Is Pushed in House but Senate Filled With Oratory, Few Votes

Washington, July 24 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration's atomic energy bill raced toward victory in the House early today. But it remained stalled in a still-talking Senate session with no end yet in sight.

Uncorking a marathon meeting of its own, the House wound up 174 hours of debate—with lots of votes—at 3:14 a. m. (EDT) by stamping tentative but seemingly decisive approval on the omnibus measure which would revamp the nation's basic atomic energy law.

Then it adjourned till Monday after a parliamentary maneuver by Rep. Murray (D-Tenn.) forced delay on the final, formal rollcall vote on the bill.

In the Senate, where there has been plenty of oratory but few votes in a round-the-clock meeting that started Wednesday morning, weary administration supporters were still seeking in vain for an agreement which would move the disputed measure forward along the lines they want.

Plan to Keep Talking
GOP leaders said they planned to keep the long-distance session going till midnight tonight—then, after a Sunday lay-off, start up again Monday.

Sen. Morse (Ind.-Cre.), a fresh flower in his lapel, took the floor at 2:18 a. m., for more hours of speechmaking to criticize what he says would be the bill's "giveaway" of a basic national resource to "the private power monopoly."

Morse opened up after Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) had held the floor for 5 hours, 12 minutes. Sparkman, another member of a determined band of opponents composed mostly of Democrats, asked a change in the bill to allow a longer government holding period on atomic patents.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, spoke determinedly both to the Senate and in an interview. He said he plans to press Monday his cloture petition to limit debate, unless he gets an earlier agreement to shorten the talkfest—an accord he has been unsuccessful in gaining in repeated attempts so far.

Called Drastic Move
Nor were there indications that his cloture move, already introduced with the signatures of 38 GOP senators, was likely to gain the 64-member approval needed to take effect if he presses it to a vote. Most of the 47 Democrats and some Republicans were reported opposed to the cloture attempt, regarded as a drastic move in Senate procedure.

In the House, where strict debate-limiting rules are the normal course, administration forces held solid sway yesterday and into the wee hours of the morning as they went through the complicated, 104-page bill.

The measure in general would revise the original 1946 Atomic Energy Law to allow a limited sharing of atomic information with U. S. allies and to let private industry enter the field of peacetime atomic power development.

Procedure Taken
Ruling the floor with a tight hand, House GOP leaders:

1. Knocked down on a standing 172-115 vote an amendment to nullify President Eisenhower's disputed directive to have the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) contract for new private power facilities in the Tennessee Valley area.

2. Defeated 161-118 a proposal to allow the government to build and operate atomic power plants, if Congress provides funds. A similar amendment carried in the Senate over leadership protests, 45-11.

3. Approved tentatively 137-113, then on a formal rollcall vote 203-159, an amendment to grant normal patent rights for new non-military atomic developments not conceived or executed under government auspices. This took the place of Eisenhower's original proposal that patentable improvements during the next five years be shared for a fee with all qualified applicants.

4. Refused to give the President more leeway to negotiate for an international atomic pool

K of C Radio Programs
The Third Commandment, "Remember thou keep holy the Sabbath Day," bids us make proper use of the Lord's Day. Marion Driscoll, a good churchgoer thought she knew what that entailed. The Ave Maria Hour radio production of The Third Commandment shows that Marion was mistaken. Only after she nearly lost her husband did she discover what God meant by this command. This is the third in the Ave Maria Hour's present series of fiction stories explaining the Ten Commandments. It will be heard over WKNY Sunday at 8:30 a. m. The Sacred Heart Program will be broadcast over WHUC, Hudson, weekdays at 10:45 a. m. and Sunday at 12:15 p. m. WKNY will carry the program weekdays at 6 a. m. The WKNY broadcasts of the Ave Maria Hour and the Sacred Heart Program are sponsored by Knights of Council 275, Knights of Columbus.

Religious Radio Programs

LITTLE LIZ

It's amazing how much trouble there is in this world, when so many people are looking for it.

The 'BALTON'

Three Rules for Furniture Plan

These are the three considerations that must govern your furniture arrangement in each room: (1) Activities conducted in the room. (2) Comfort and convenience of those who will use the room. (3) Effectiveness. Remember the day when furniture set primly around the walls with large pieces placed "catty-cornered"? Present-day decorating plans a furniture grouping for each activity.

To illustrate: Your living room should include one or more conversation groups; a comfortable place for reading and television; a place to write; perhaps a piano grouping or a permanent table and chairs for bridge or canasta. Always pick a point of interest for one of your major groupings: a fireplace, bay or picture window or a group of corner windows. Sectional upholstered pieces which form corners cost no more than individual chairs, and yet are extremely effective.

Americans Found 'Movingest' Folk

Americans are about the "movingest" people in the world, according to continuing compilations of census figures which show that about one of every five of the nation's citizens changed residences every year between April, 1947, and the Spring of 1950.

Most of them merely changed homes to nearby areas, but some millions annually pulled up stakes and moved from one state to another, with a seeming preference for the West Coast and Pacific Northwest areas.

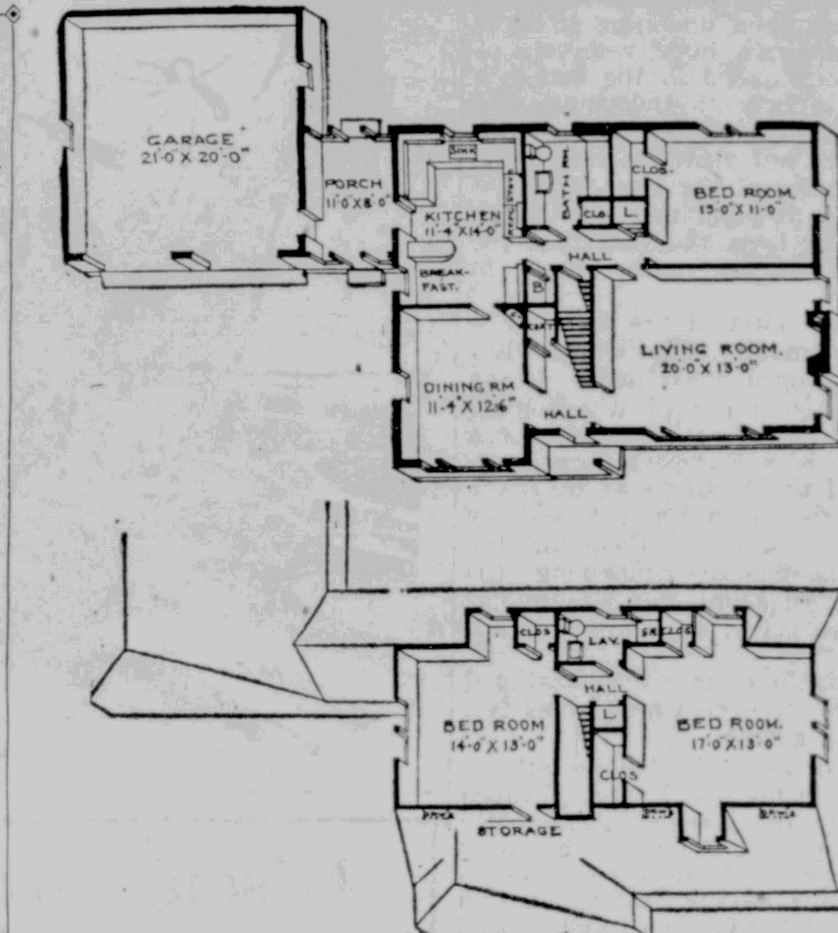

For seven years after 1940, a total of 70 million persons, almost half the population then, settled in different homes or in different parts of the country.

Sandpaper Rust Spots

Before repainting, all rusted spots should be sandpapered bright and should be touched up with one of the special metal primers now available. These touched up spots should be allowed to dry thoroughly before the finish coat is applied.

Snip Off Wisteria

It is not uncommon for wisteria plants to produce a limited display of summer flowers which emerge from the current season's growth. These trusses seldom are worth while, and to conserve the strength of the plant it is best to clip them off as soon as they appear.

Is Traditional Style Home

Rooms Six
Bedrooms Three
Closets Seven
Cubage 22,800
House 7,400
Dimensions 39' x 26'

Large picture windows and a combination finish give a modern appeal to the traditional style home called "The Balton" and featured today by the Home of the Week Plan Service.

Although the house proper measures only 39 by 26 feet, it contains six good-sized rooms; there are four on the first floor and two on the second. Of course, one of the advantages of a two-story home is that you can obtain a greater amount of living space for a more economical price than is possible in a one-story house. Another advantage—and one that has a great deal of appeal for many home builders—is the fact that the second floor does not have to be finished when the house is constructed but can, if you prefer, be left until a more convenient time.

Cubage of the house proper is 22,800 feet; cubage of the garage is 7,400 feet. An 80-foot lot would be needed to build "The Balton" plus the attached two-car garage.

Since there are nine closets plus under the eaves, storage space keeping items where they belong should be no problem for the family living in "The Balton."

The one bedroom on the first floor and the two located in the second story will provide sufficient sleeping space for the average family.

There is both a breakfast nook and a dining room in "The Balton." Thus, the living room is left free for gatherings of family and friends.

If, like many modern women, you prefer a first-floor laundry, you can use the porch connecting the house and garage as a laundry. Doors in both the front and back walls provide ready access to the yard.

For the family that owns two cars, the garage will provide adequate extra storage space. The family that has but one car, however, may still prefer to have the two-car garage constructed; the large amount of storage space you'll obtain can always be put to good use.

Only the heating plant must be installed in the basement of "The Balton;" this should be placed under the living room.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a self-addressed 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Walk the Plank

It's possible to paint a small house entirely from ladders, but it is much easier to work from a plank suspended between two ladders. The foot of a straight ladder should be one quarter as far from the wall as the ladder is high. If the ladder rests on a cement walk, use ladder shoes.

Anode Prevents Rust

A new magnesium anode to prevent rust and corrosion of the working parts in the tanks over water closets has been introduced, the Plumbing and Heating Industry Bureau reports. Magnesium prevents corrosion because it is more active than any metal used in the construction of the flushing mechanism. The anode may be installed in any old or new tank.

Moss on the Roof

If moss is growing on the roof of your house and you don't like it, spray the roof with a 10 per cent solution of chloride during a dry spell. Sprinkling with dry Bordeaux powder will also do the trick.

SOME PAINT JOBS ARE BETTER THAN OTHERS!

5 BIG REASONS ARE —

1. A RELIABLE PAINTING CONTRACTOR MAKES PAINTING HIS LIFE'S WORK. He is a craftsman of high skill which comes from years of apprenticeship, study and practice.
2. THERE'S A DIFFERENCE IN PAINT MATERIALS. Manufacturer's of quality materials urge that they be applied by reliable contractors.
3. THERE'S A DIFFERENCE IN PREPARING A JOB. Preparation for a job is a prime factor in its success.
4. THERE'S A DIFFERENCE IN PREPARING A SURFACE. Let an expert help you remedy bad conditions.
5. THERE IS A WORLD OF DIFFERENCE IN HOW THE PAINT IS APPLIED. Only the craftsman contractor knows—weather, exposure and seasonal conditions. Only an expert knows when a paint should be flowed on or brushed out.

WETBACK DANGER

A Senate Judiciary subcommittee is considering two bills designed to curb the flow of illegal "wetback" immigrants from Mexico. One of the bills would make it illegal to hire wetbacks; the other calls for seizure of equipment used in smuggling immigrants into this country. Representatives of the CIO and the AFL labor unions and a Catholic priest were among witnesses who testified before the committee that wetback labor is not needed for cultivation and harvesting of crops in the Southwest.

It is easy to understand the concern of the unions about the influx of wetbacks. Because these people enter the country illegally they are more or less at the mercy of employers who can offer them wages below the standard that American workers can or will accept. The effect of illegal immigration on the labor market is only one of the bad results, however.

What good does it do to have an elaborate code of immigration laws designed to screen immigrants if that code can be circumvented as easily as most wetbacks do it? Should the desire of a few people to hire cheap labor be considered more important than enforcing necessary laws? What is to prevent enemy agents from making their way across the border in the same manner that wetbacks do?

If a change is necessary in the immigration laws to make it possible for employers to supplement their labor force with Mexican workers then the change should be made in the proper manner so that ways to check on who is being admitted can be worked out. Ignoring present laws, however, cannot be permitted.

HUNGER IN CHINA

The Voice of America recently reported that Communist China is being forced to export food to the Soviet Union despite a serious shortage of food at home. The Voice reports food riots by peasants in three provinces—Kansu in the northwest and Hunan and Kwangsi in the south.

For the last eight months the Reds have compelled peasants to deliver 80 per cent of all grain crops at a low price to the government. This grain has been used to pay for imported products needed in the industrialization and armament scheme of the Red rulers.

Russia has frequently made great promises to the people of China. It is now apparent that any aid the Chinese have received has been paid for dearly. The Voice of America has been broadcasting these facts to the Chinese and contrasting them with the aid the United States has given to free countries.

Red conquest of Indo-China may mean some relief from the food shortage. But there can be little real hope that the Chinese people will get enough to eat when it is the policy of their government to consider the needs and the wishes of the Soviet Union before the needs of their own people.

NO MORE K.P.

A great many writers have written humorous pieces about the air force experiment at Enid, Oklahoma, where a civilian food service has been hired to produce food for airmen. The food service not only buys the food but prepares it, serves it and cleans up afterwards. This means that there is no K.P. and writers find it hard to resist the temptation to say something funny about soldiers peeling potatoes.

If the experiment at the Enid air force base works out it may be tried at other bases. There might be several good results from such a plan. K.P., for all the humor civilians seem to find in it, is not funny to servicemen. Eliminating such duty might raise morale. The company providing the service claims it can do the job cheaper and more efficiently. If this is so it would mean saving to the taxpayer.

If K.P. can be eliminated without too great expense it might mean that servicemen could spend the time saved in learning their military duties, which is after all the reason they are sent to training camps.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

A propaganda leaflet, issued to inform Americans about France, concedes the influence of the Communists in that country, who received 5,400,000 votes, or 28 per cent, in the 1946 election; in 1951, it was 4,900,000 votes or 26 per cent. There has been no general election since 1951. Discussing these figures, the pamphlet, issued by "Editions France Actuelle," makes the point:

"... On the basis of these figures, Americans sometimes tend to conclude that, in case of war with Russia, France could not defend herself effectively since much of her population (and presumably of her Army) would side with the Soviet aggressors."

What is not said here is that in modern war, what is prepared and arranged before the war takes place is the real test. Granted that if France is invaded by a Soviet Army, every Frenchman will be true to the Tricolor and would give his life for his country, too much is happening now and has happened since the end of World War II for his patriotism to be effective. France has rejected the necessity for full modernization industrially. France has been unwilling to fight adequately for its empire, a huge reservoir of manpower that has been useful in the last two wars. The defensive action in Indochina was largely the task of the Foreign Legion in which there are no Frenchmen but plenty of Germans.

It is not the character of the French people nor their loyalty that is brought into question in the current discussions. It is the fact that the Communists have gained so much power in France.

It was France that initiated the idea for a European Defense Community, M. Pleven, when he was premier, developed what came to be known as the Pleven Plan out of which grew EDC. The essence of EDC is the creation of a European Army, that is a European force, sufficiently large to hold the Russians at the river Elbe. A treaty was signed in Paris (1952) by France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg confirming the establishment of such an army. But France has never ratified this treaty and therefore it is not operative.

France now objects to certain organizational arrangements in this treaty, which, however, France negotiated and signed.

One reason given for France's attitude is: "Three times in the past 75 years France has been over-run by the German Army. Her lands have been occupied; 2,200,000 of her sons have been killed. These events have left a heritage of suspicion and fear. Many Frenchmen who fought valiantly against the Germans find it hard to think of a European Army in which they or their sons might take orders from German officers."

Of course, much has happened since France was invaded by Germany. Germany is a divided country, the Eastern half being controlled by Soviet Russia; secondly, unless a nation is Communistically inclined, it much accept the thesis that Soviet Russia and not Germany is the enemy of Western civilization. Thirdly, the realistic question today is not whether Germany will ever gain enough strength to invade France but whether if war should come, any force will be sufficiently powerful in Europe to withstand Russia.

Obviously, neither Germany nor France alone can create the divisions or the industrial establishment to withstand Russia's present Army, but EDC, supported by the United States and Great Britain, can develop enormous strength. That is why EDC is a keystone of American policy and it must be said that the following sentence in the French propaganda does not make much sense at the present time:

"... Some Frenchmen fear that a rearmament Germany might be tempted to re-gain her Eastern territories by force and that, through the European Army, France might find herself an unwilling partner in such an adventure."

Even if Germany did seek to regain her Eastern territories, as rightly Germany should, it would be like hanging on to a stone while a stone wall unless Germany regained these territories as part of a general war. Alone, West Germany could no more regain East Germany than Chiang Kai-shek can take Shanghai.

The truth of the matter is that France is holding out because the Communist strength in France remains strong enough to impede, if not prevent, the ratification of the EDC treaty. Were it otherwise, in view of the vital interest, the treaty would have been ratified. (Copyright, 1954, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

When a medical student describes symptoms of high temperature for which no cause can be found at the moment, he calls it P.U.O., meaning pyrexia or fever of unknown origin and uses the letters P.U.O. or F.U.O.

Fever is like headache in that each has so many hundreds of causes that it is very often difficult to settle on the one cause. I have mentioned some years ago the salesman who went to a dozen different doctors complaining of headache and received a dozen different prescriptions to relieve the pain. He thought it was a good joke on the doctors and that he should have received the same prescription in each case but he obviously did not know that there are over 200 known causes of headache.

Fever or high temperature can appear in such a wide variety of conditions that an attempt to discuss all the diagnoses which may cause it present extraordinary difficulty, yet every practicing physician is running across such cases very often.

Now we read of an attempt made to find out just what was the trouble in 110 cases of F.U.O. at the New York Hospital. This group included all cases admitted to the pavilion service with this diagnosis over a period of two full years so that every season of the year was represented. These patients were all examined by members of the resident staff and seen by attending and consulting staff members; from three to seven physicians thus examined each patient. Because so many physicians were involved, there were a large number of initial impressions which were subsequently proven correct in about 25 per cent of the cases.

Each had a complete examination and history, routine laboratory work including complete blood count, urinalysis, blood test for syphilis and usually a chest X-ray. What were the final findings in these 110 cases of fever of unknown origin?

1. Twenty-two patients recovered within a period of ten days without any particular diagnosis being made.
2. There were 20 patients who apparently had some mild epidemic type of disease of the central nervous system.
3. Twenty-three had an infection of the respiratory (nose and throat) tract including 9 pneumonias.
4. In thirty-seven, diagnoses were made within a period of two weeks and included common conditions of stomach and intestine.
5. Eight persistent cases were very puzzling and only 3 were diagnosed.
6. Three died in hospital and two at home shortly afterwards.
7. 850 laboratory tests were made and only 10 per cent of these yielded information that helped in the diagnosis.

Old Stick-in-the-Mud

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NEA)—U. S. Information Agency's Voice of America has been gagging up some of its programs by broadcasting the latest anti-Communist jokes behind the Iron Curtain.

Here are a few samples: A visitor standing in line for a factory council election in Czechoslovakia, was examining the ballot given to him in an envelope.

"What are you doing?" asked his supervisor. "I want to know whom I'm voting for," answered the worker.

"Are you out of your mind?" asked the supervisor. "Don't you know the ballot is secret?" This one came from a Hungarian escapee.

"The government promised to raise our standard of living 50 per cent when spring came, and they have done it. We used to be starving and shivering and now we are only starving."

A visitor to the office of Bulgaria's prime minister asked, "What kind of a telephone is that on your desk? It has a receiver, but no speaker."

"Direct line to Moscow," the prime minister replied. Poles have a way of collecting bonuses offered by the Communist government for speedy work. They do it by erecting a wall in speedy time.

The one says to the other, "You hold it up while I go and get the bonus."

Rep. George M. Grant (D., Ala.) got into a hot farm bill argument with Rep. Jacob K. Javits (R., N. Y.) who was supporting a move to take peanuts off the list of basic commodities entitled to high price supports.

"Some years ago," said Grant, "a great Negro scientist by the name of Dr. George Carver, of Tuskegee Institute, was making some experiments with peanuts, and if my friend the gentleman from New York would find out what one of those experiments might result in, I am sure he would be for 100 per cent, instead of just 90 per cent on peanuts."

"There has been developed, and it is hoped by many of us that there will be offered on the market at some time in the near future, a hair restorer made of peanut oil. I would say that would be one of the greatest things that the little, lowly peanut has ever produced."

When Democratic Senators Humphrey of Minnesota and Douglas of Illinois both jumped Colorado's Republican Eugene Milliken during tax bill debate, he stopped them with "One at a time, I shall be glad to take on the senators at any time—but one at a time."

"I am reminded of the story of the poll parrot who was a prisoner in a cage. He kept crying 'I want my liberty. I want my freedom.' Finally the cage was opened and the poll parrot flew out and landed on the limb of a tree. All the blackbirds in the neighborhood descended on him and started pulling out his feathers. He said, 'One at a time, darn you—one at a time.' So I am saying, 'One at a time.'"

Rep. Victor Wickersham (D., Okla.) has been registering outraged indignation on the House floor over the fact that his state will not be the location for shooting the film version of the musical production, "Oklahoma!"

Arthur Hornblower, the producer, has objected to making the picture in Oklahoma because it has "too many oil wells, airplanes and people."

"If Mr. Hornblower wants 'corn as high as an elephant's eye,' we have it in Oklahoma," protested Wickersham. "We don't have to import it and prop it up with stage braces. If Mr. Hornblower wants cowboy extras, we have them."

What bothers Rep. Wickersham in particular is that Hollywood went all the way to Africa to make "The African Queen." "I want to know, Mr. Speaker," asked Mr. Wickersham, "why would he go to Africa instead of the expense of Oklahoma?"

Recent news cables attributing statements to Ho Chi Minh, Indochinese Communist leader, have revived speculation in the west on whether he is still alive. If alive, he would be 64 years old.

Ho has taken no direct part in the peace negotiations at either Geneva or in Indochina. American delegates at Geneva tried to examine the credentials of the Viet Minh negotiators, to see if they were signed by Ho. The papers bore no signature.

Direct Communist radio broadcasts by Ho stopped three years ago. All efforts by the French to smoke him out have failed.

Questions—Answers

Q—What is the legend regarding the formation of the islands of Japan?

A—The story says that the four main islands of Japan were formed when the Goddess of the Sun let four dew drops fall from her scepter into the sea. The Japanese call their country Nippon, which means "home of the sun."

Q—Is the Tower of Babel standing?

A—No. Q—How many world boxing titles fell into new hands in 1953?

A—Only one, the middleweight crown won by Carl Olson from Randy Turpin of Great Britain.

Kingston Couple Return From England

Mr. and Mrs. Richard De Kay, with their English import, a thoroughbred Boxer, Chico, are staying with Mrs. De Kay's parents at 73 Lafayette avenue. They returned this past week from England where Mr. De Kay was with the U. S. Air Force. (Freeman photo).

Varied Impressions Of Life in England Told by Couple

By MARIANNE DAVIS Freeman Society Editor

Impressions of historic castles, well-tended flower gardens, and an England emerging from austerity, were brought back by Mr. and Mrs. Richard De Kay of Kingston, who returned after three years in England. Mr. De Kay served with the U. S. Air Force at Upper Hayford Base, near the university town of Oxford.

Following their wedding in Albuquerque, N. M., in 1951, Mr. and Mrs. De Kay spent several months in that state before sailing for England. Mrs. De Kay, the former Caroline Little, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford C. Little of 73 Lafayette avenue, found housekeeping in the English way very different from here.

A lack of refrigeration means frequent trips to market for English housewives. "Our landlady tried to show me how to keep things cooled in a bucket of cold tap water, but we bought our small refrigerator at the Post Exchange right away," Mrs. De Kay said.

Release from Rationing Helped Everything was "on ration" at their arrival, with candy and meats hard to obtain. The gradual release of the foods from the lists showed in better stocked stores, the De Kays declared.

"We shopped at the commissary for Americans, so that we could get most of what we wanted, but our English friends were not so lucky," said the former airman.

Finding no central heating in their home in Oxford, or in the later apartment in the suburbs, was a sorely felt lack of modern conveniences. "There's no real winter," explained Mr. De Kay, "but we felt the results of the fog and rain over there."

He noted that many housing authorities sent here by England had recommended better construction against the elements, but the new houses were identical to the old. "Guess that's one of the main differences," Mr. De Kay said, "because Americans are always trying to improve wherever they can."

Enjoyed American Hits The De Kays enjoyed along with their English neighbors, the beautiful parks and flower gardens, too often hidden behind high stone or wooden fences. "Even average people call the flowers by their botanical names in England," Mr. De Kay said, "and you can always see a man and his wife working in their garden during the long hours of daylight in the summer."

A touch of home was brought over with the American stage hits, Pal Joey, Carousel, Kiss Me Kate and Mary Martin in South Pacific, in London. The De Kays enjoyed the performances of the other plays in the town of Oxford, which supported the New Theatre as well as the Playhouse, where only repertory groups performed.

Tickets for the hits were easier to obtain than they are in New York city, with conveniences in the theatres of bars and restaurants, as well as smoking while watching the play in any part of the theatre.

Golf, Tennis Favored Sports Attendance in the Church of England was not barred to the De Kays, but they preferred the people know the hymns so well," Mrs. De Kay, a choir member of the Old Dutch Reformed Church remarked. "On Sunday, they sing from books with only the words printed in them, no music. During the week, they hold hymn practices. And they all sing, even if there are only 20 people at the service," she continued.

High praise for the sports of tennis and golf were voiced by both. "In England, you can see people from six to sixty on the courts every night," Mr. De Kay explained. "He saw the Americans, Maureen Connelly and Frank Sedgman win at Wimbledon in 1952, and participated himself in a tournament at Margate."

A custom which they highly endorsed, too, was the high tea on Christmas Day, a merry celebration with everyone joining in games and feasting. "We almost didn't get a Christmas tree, though," petite, dark-haired Mrs. De Kay said, "because our landlady told us that only people with children put up trees. And it was bad luck otherwise. But we were determined," she smiled, "and afterwards he was glad."

Will Study Geology A valuable practice they observed was the riding of bicycles, becoming dangerous as more and more people are buying large American and fast continental automobiles.

A trip to Paris, France; Lucerne, Switzerland, and through Germany to Heidelberg, gave the couple a change of scenery and cuisine. "I didn't realize it was so homelike for the sight of mountains until we got to Switzerland," Mrs. De Kay said.

Her husband looked on the mountains with a professional eye, since he's planning to return to Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., in the fall to continue his studies in geology. They are staying with Mrs. De Kay's family during the summer until they leave for Pennsylvania in September.

modately, and he'd have been quite right.

When South actually led the club, West went up with the ace of clubs and led his remaining diamond. Now there was nothing South could do to make his contract. East was bound to give in with the ace of spades in time to lead a third diamond and thus give West a ruffing trick.

West's ace of hearts was then the fourth defensive trick.

South would have made his contract if he had led trumps immediately. There was no hurry about tackling the clubs.

If South draws trumps at the first possible chance the defenders cannot get a diamond ruff.

After South has drawn three rounds of trump, he can lead a club toward dummy's king and thus provide for an eventual discard of a losing heart on dummy's king of clubs.

The point is not that the club lead is unnecessary but rather that it must be postponed until after the trumps have been drawn.

Lowell Literary Club Holds Meeting at Watson Hollow Inn

The Lowell Literary Club held its July meeting Thursday afternoon at Watson Hollow Inn, West Shokan. Mrs. George Long, chairman of the program committee, was hostess.

Members attending the meeting were the Misses May and Anna Quimby and Hazel Bloom and the Meses. Mary Chidister, Caspar Clynder, Franklin Pierce and Clyde Wonderly.

Guests from Kingston included Mrs. Jane Hagner, Miss Idella Hyde, and Mrs. Florence Cubberty. Mrs. Lance Riehoff of Iowa was also a guest of the club.

Annual Parish Picnic Will Be Held at School

The annual parish picnic of Immaculate Conception Church, sponsored by the combined societies of the parish, will be held Sunday starting at 3 p. m. in rain or shine on the school grounds, Delaware avenue.

The Rev. Joseph Sieczek, pastor, and the committees invite all parishioners and their friends. The entire proceeds will go toward the new school fund.

Ulster Artists Hold Outdoor Art Exhibit

The Ulster County Artists Association is holding an outdoor art exhibit of work by the members this afternoon and evening at Johnny's Drive-In, Port Ewen.

The showing will also be held Sunday afternoon and evening, with the public invited.

Former Resident Obtains License to Wed Today

New York, July 24 (Special)—Miss Joyce Mary Holden, a Kingston girl now living at 430 East 5th street, New York, and Varran Andrew Geyer, in the navy, of Livingstonville, obtained a marriage license at the city clerk's office here Friday.

The couple said that they would be married today at the Middle Collegiate Church here. The Rev. E. R. Palen will perform the ceremony.

The bride-to-be was born in Kingston. She is the daughter of William H. and Ruth Wilson Holden. Mr. Geyer was born in New York, the son of John A. and Beverly Wicks Geyer.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Don't Make Bridge Complicated Game

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

Don't look for anything complicated in today's hand. That was South's mistake when he first played the hand, and it led him only to defeat.

The bidding was reasonable enough. West's overall was sound enough, and North could just about scrape up a free raise to two spades. North would have been happier with four trumps, but he could hardly fail to take action with 9 points in high cards.

After North's free raise, South didn't hesitate to go to game. He had 15 points in high cards, 2 points for the singleton, and 1 point for the fifth spade after that suit had been raised. The total was 18 points, and North's free raise showed about 8 points as a minimum. Hence, the combined count was enough to yield a reasonable play for game.

West opened the eight of diamonds, and declarer won in his own hand in order to lead his singleton club toward the dummy. No beginner would have made this mistake. A beginner would have drawn trumps immediately, and he'd have been quite right.

When South actually led the club, West went up with the ace of clubs and led his remaining diamond. Now there was nothing South could do to make his contract. East was bound to give in with the ace of spades in time to lead a third diamond and thus give West a ruffing trick.

West's ace of hearts was then the fourth defensive trick.

South would have made his contract if he had led trumps immediately. There was no hurry about tackling the clubs.

If South draws trumps at the first possible chance the defenders cannot get a diamond ruff.

After South has drawn three rounds of trump, he can lead a club toward dummy's king and thus provide for an eventual discard of a losing heart on dummy's king of clubs.

The point is not that the club lead is unnecessary but rather that it must be postponed until after the trumps have been drawn.

Scouts to Launch $20,500 Campaign During August

The Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, announced today that its 1954 campaign for operating funds will be conducted throughout Ulster and Greene counties during August. Several hundred campaign captains and workers will solicit funds in the various communities and districts of the Council area. The Council seeks to raise a total of $20,500 by popular subscription to defray the cost of its rapidly-expanding operations during the year.

Commenting on the coming drive, R. S. Quackenbush, Council president and campaign director, said that this year's budget is approximately $1,000 higher than that of last year. He pointed out that this increase is brought about by the fact that the mounting appeal of the scouting program has resulted in record-breaking totals in all phases of the local Council's activities, with correspondingly increased Council costs.

Membership Nears 2,500 He said that by the end of the year the present boy-membership of 2,200 is expected to exceed 2,500 and that the present unit total of 91 will undoubtedly reach or exceed 100. This rapid expansion will effect sharp increases all along the line and will also necessitate additional professional personnel to provide proper servicing and adequate executive leadership.

In its long-range planning for the year, the Council's executive board has included basic and advanced training courses for an unusually large group of volunteer leaders. In addition, it has placed increased emphasis upon the expansion and improvement of the Council's Camp Tri-Mount which this year will record a new high of 500 boy-weeks.

Will Promote Safety New and standard measures for the health and safety of all boys in the organization will continue to be promoted at Tri-Mount and throughout the Council as will renewed emphasis upon consistent advancement in scouting on the part of all boy-members.

Local scouting officials are confident that the Rip Van Winkle Council's contribution to the American way of life in the two counties it serves will assure the complete success of this Council-wide endeavor, Quackenbush pointed out.

Modena

Modena, July 23—The Rev. Dr. James E. Brimelow of Clintondale will deliver a sermon on the subject The Cloud With the Golden Fringe at regular worship services in the Modena Methodist Church Sunday, Aug. 1.

Local people are planning to attend the annual chicken barbecue Saturday, July 31, at 6 and 7:30 p. m. at the Plattkill Grange Hall. Tickets may be purchased from Burton R. Ward or Eber H. Coy, local members of the Grange. Mr. Coy is chairman of the committee in charge of the barbecue.

The WSOS of the Modena Church will meet Thursday, Aug. 5 at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Earl B. DeWitt, Sr. A report will be given at this time of the proceeds from the annual church fair and supper held recently at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

The regular meeting of the Modena Fire Department will be held Thursday, Aug. 5, at 8 p. m.

Several Modena families have taken the occasion of new hymns in the Methodist Churches to establish memorials in honor of their loved ones. Anyone considering such a memorial is advised to contact Mrs. Frank M. Coy for further information.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Denton and daughter, Nancy, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roggy in Brooklyn. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Roggy, Mr. and Mrs. Denton were dinner guests of Chief Steward William Eikelenboom of Holland aboard the Dutch liner M. V. Slamat, a Royal Rotterdam Lloyd ship, captained by Captain W. Evers.

The ship is now docked at Pier 3, Bush Terminal, awaiting cargo for Casablanca. Also attending the dinner party were Second Steward Gerry Andela and Chief Cook Aini Fisser, also of Holland. A tasty dish Nasi Goreng was served by Javanese waiters aboard the ship. After dinner the guests were taken on an inspection tour of the ship by Mr. Eikelenboom and Mr. Andela, when they described what life aboard a ship for 8 to 12 months was like before returning to their native Holland.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles J. F. Keil and Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Cleveland were dinner guests of Mrs. F. S. Osterhout July 11. Dr. Keil, who is superintendent of Five Points Mission in New York, spoke at the Methodist Church, presenting the work of the mission. He is a former pastor of this parish.

Fred Decker, Ralph Hoffman and F. M. Cleveland were delegates to the recent unofficial Ulster County Republican convention in Kingston.

Mrs. Nan Deyo and Miss Carrie Van Gaasbeck of New Rochelle and Miss Addie Jansen of Lanesville called on Mrs. F. M. Cleveland Tuesday.

The Rev. Bertram Chandler of Summit will be the guest speaker at the Methodist Church Sunday.

Moses Quits as Trustee

New York, July 24 (AP)—The National Safety Council lost a trustee when it questioned Robert Moses' statement that speeding is the biggest cause of highway accidents. Moses, New York city planning commissioner, recently told a White House conference that speed caused "fully half" of all traffic deaths. The council advised him it had sought but never found proof of this. Moses sent in his resignation yesterday but wouldn't say where the ceremony would take place. State law requires that the marriage occur in the county where the license is issued. Miss Meadows gave her age at 29 and Allen, 32. Each listed a previous marriage which ended in divorce.

Shaw Comedy Set For Woodstock

Woodstock, July 24—The George Bernard Shaw comedy, Widowers' Houses, starring Jane Lloyd-Jones and Frank Daly, will be presented next week from Tuesday, July 27, through Sunday, August 1, at the Woodstock Playhouse. A rollicking satire in the best GBS vein, the play pokes fun at heartless money-grubbers and at idealists alike. Under the direction of Michael Howard, the farce will feature Bernard Kates, Michael Lewin and William Darrid, all established favorites of the Playhouse stage.

The Shaw offering follows My 3 Angels, the current Playhouse production, which will run through Sunday night (July 25), with Darrid, Kates, Heywood Hale Broun, Anne Fielding, Lewin and Miss Lloyd-Jones in the cast.

Widowers' Houses, Shaw's first satirical drama, caused an uproar at its premier in London in 1892. It launched him as the most famous, and infamous, of modern playwrights. In the plot are involved a millionaires rent-gouger, Sartorius (Frank Daly), his unpredictable daughter, Blanche (Jane Lloyd-Jones), and the high-minded young Dr. Harry Trench (Bernard Kates).

Robert Jilison, whose settings have won praise in preceding plays this season, has designed a delightful 1880's background for the Shaw comedy.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

Andy Varipapa, the two-time world match game bowling champion, didn't make the common mistake of taking the game too seriously when he moved to golf a few years ago.

Now a sturdy 63, Varipapa is perhaps the best known bowler in the history of the sport. His amazing repertoire of trick shots are familiar to bowling fans the world over.

On the legitimate side, Varipapa is a Hall of Famer with 77 perfect scores of 300 to his credit and 299 and 298 totals in the hundreds. Nobody is even close to him in the "300" department and he figures he has rolled more than 1,000,000 games.

Still a tremendous physical specimen, Varipapa believes that easy does it on the golf course. Especially if you take up the game late in life. He was nearly 60 when he started playing and quickly learned that there was a game not easily conquered.

"It took me 40 years to really learn how to bowl," said the stocky Brooklynite, "and I figured I just didn't have time left to become proficient in golf which is much tougher than bowling. I enjoy the exercise and recreation and nice people I meet."

So he shoots around 90, hits from 175 to 200 down the middle and has his share of troubles on chip shots and putting. But he enjoys the relaxation immensely as was evidenced by a 27-hole tour of Woodstock Country Club on Thursday.

● Golfers Have It Easier

The conversation got around to the difference between a top-flight golfer and professional bowler.

"The advantage is with the pro golfer every time," Andy insisted. "A golf pro seldom strays more than four or five strokes off his form. But a tough pair of bowling alleys, poor runways or other bad conditions can make a good bowler look like a chump."

"While bowling skill is easier to acquire," Varipapa went on, "the golfer always has the advantage of consistently good conditions. But a pro bowler, rolling exhibitions around the country often runs into amazingly bad situations. I've had nights when '200' was a terrific score. But did you ever hear of Sam Snead or Ben Hogan shooting an 80?"

A periodic visitor to Kingston since 1934, Varipapa is spending a few days at Mt. Pleasant and plans to stage an informal exhibition at Ferraro's Bowladrome the first week in August.

A veteran of more than a dozen Hollywood movie shorts, TV and the best publicized kegger of the era, Varipapa is soon due to make a TV appearance on "You Asked for It."

● High On Don Carter

What did he think about Don Carter, the 28-year-old Detroit youth who recently won his second successive National Match Game crown?

"Carter is the best looking bowler of the new crop," said Andy. "He has the speed necessary to carry wood on modern conditions. But I hear he has a knee condition that may shorten his career."

Varipapa is also high on youngsters like Bill Lillard and Carmen Salvino of Chicago and Ray Lubanski of Detroit. Of the old crop of the Ned Day-Buddy Bomar-Joe Norris-Joe Wilman era (his contemporaries) he feels Bomar remains the best of the group.

Andy made his first appearance in Kingston about 20 years ago at Emerick's Recreation. He wanted to know who the tough guy would be. At the moment, Ken Williams was hotter than a dime pistol.

Williams was No. 2 in the singles lineup against Varipapa that night. Andy responded to the challenge with 269-269.

Newport Chief Runs Fast Mile At Saratoga

Saratoga Springs, July 24 (AP)—Newport Chief has set the double-oval pacing standard for 1954.

The speedy 4-year-old from Octave Blake's Newport stock farm, Plainfield, N. J., paced the season's fastest mile over a half-mile track last night to sweep both ends of the $10,000 Springwood free-for-all at Saratoga Raceway.

After winning the first dash to the Grand Circuit event in 2:04, Newport Chief came back to take the second heat in 3:00.1, bettering the previous double-oval mark of 2:00.3 set by Guinea Gold at Laurel and Baltimore raceways.

His time also equaled the Saratoga course record established by Good Time in 1952.

Billows Loses In Met Amateur

Garden City, July 24 (AP)—Frank Stracchi of the home club meets Mal Galletta of Douglass, and Joe Gagliardi of Mamaroneck plays Jack Lyons of Sands Point in the 36-hole semi-finals of the 52nd Metropolitan Amateur golf championship at the Garden City Country Club today.

Stracchi, six-time holder of the Metropolitan crown and a former National Public Links champion, gained the semifinal round yesterday, defeating Ray Billows, another former champion from Poughkeepsie, 6 and 5. Gagliardi, runnerup to Billy Maxwell in the National Amateur in 1951, led Met champion the same year, eliminated Bill Holloway of Westbury, a former Long Island champion, 3 and 2.

New Tennis Champion?

Kantrowitz-Holmes Duel Slated Sunday

A young Kingston High School ace could be the next amateur tennis champion of Ulster county.

Marty Kantrowitz, No. 1 singles ace of the 1954 Maroon varsity, meets defending champion Bill Holmes of Saugerties Sunday in a semi-final match at Forsyth Park that could settle it all.

Joe Scott and Irving Wheatcroft are carded in a semi-final duel Monday at 6 p. m. at Hasbrouck Park, but the general feeling is that the winner of the Kantrowitz-Holmes battle will take it all.

Holmes At Peak
Holmes, playing sharp tennis, won the event the last three times it was held. There was no tournament last year.

Kantrowitz came through with a great clutch performance against Ben Selbst, the California star, in a quarter final match. Trailing 2-5 in the first set, Marty rallied to pull it out of the fire, 7-5, then went on to score the crusher at 6-1.

In Holmes he will be meeting a cagey veteran who knows all the tricks and will put the young high school star to the supreme test of his career.

Doubles play was also scheduled to start this weekend.

Pittsburgh—Billy Tisdale, 158, Detroit, outpointed Freddie Mans, 157, Pittsburgh, 10.

Mayfield, Oliver, DiVincenzo Rated Top Choices in PGA

St. Paul, Minn., July 24 (AP)—There's more to match play golf than mere mathematics, but the figures might give you the winner of the 36th PGA championship.

With only 16 players left after the two 18-hole "sudden death" rounds were passed with a minimum of unforeseen casualties, there was time today to check up on the "hot" players.

The three who have played the bare 6,652-yard Keller public course the best for three days include two of the best-natured guys in the pro golf business—Ed (Porky) Oliver of Lemont, Ill., and Vincenzo's gay golfer, Roberto di Vincenzo—and the usually serious Shelley Mayfield, from Texas by way of Chicopee, Mass.

Here's how they stand against Keller's vulnerable par of 36-35-71 for two days of qualifying and two rounds of danger-fraught 18-hole match play:

Scheduled Today Against Crack Fort Orange Nine

3 Hurlers Combine For Two-Hit Shutout

The red hot American Legion Juniors had a 2 p. m. date with Fort Orange Post of Albany in the District 3 state Legion tournament today at Hawkins Stadium in Albany.

They qualified yesterday with a 20-0 crusher over Middleburgh at Hawkins Stadium as Jack Houghtaling, Alo Saluste and Skip Brodhead combined to check the opposition with two hits.

Manager Tommy Maines made quick changes in the pitching staff after the Old Caps scored five runs in the second and eight in the third.

Maines Stars
Bob Maines pounded a triple and two singles and Ronnie Jackson stroked three singles for Kingston. Skip Brodhead, Joey Hoffman and John Culjak each had two hits. Jim Jackson belted a triple.

If victorious this afternoon, the Old Caps were scheduled to return to Albany Sunday for the finals of the District 3 tournament.

Fort Orange advanced yesterday with a victory over Hoosick Falls.

The third week of play in the Catskill Mountain Golf League Sunday sends Woodstock to Twaalfskill and Catskill to Wiltwyck.

Woodstock swingers lead the league with a victory and a tie in two outings.

The championship of the league will go to the team with most team match victories. If two or more teams wind up the season with the same number of team victories, the title will be awarded to the team with the greatest number of points scored.

USLTA Looks for Tennis Culprits

New York, July 24 (AP)—A cloak-and-dagger investigation into the methods by which amateur tennis players collect their expenses was in full swing today with the Tennis Players' League and the United States Lawn Tennis Assn. "Just looking for the facts."

It's a result of the cancellation of the big Baltimore Country Club fixture which had been scheduled for next week. There are rumors that Baltimore tournament officials claimed they were held up for too much moola by some top amateurs.

The man who holds the answers probably is William E. Lambie, chairman of the tournament.

Point to 'Strong Evidence'

Trenton, N. J., July 24 (AP)—State investigators say they have "extremely strong evidence" that $265,000 was misappropriated from a South Amboy Trust Co. account the late Harold G. Hoffman maintained as New Jersey's motor vehicle commissioner 20 years ago. Gov. Robert B. Meyner and Atty. Gen. Grover C. Richman, Jr., yesterday told a news conference of the latest development in the probe which started with Hoffman's suspension as employment security director March 18 and broke wide open June 14 when Meyner revealed a posthumous letter in which Hoffman confessed embezzling $300,000 from the South Amboy bank.

India Accepts

New Delhi, India, July 24 (AP)—An Indian government spokesman said today India has formally accepted membership on the international commission to supervise the Indochina cease-fire. Thruway Traffic Deputy Injured

Walter Fitzgerald of 79 Hoffman street, a retired Kingston patrolman, employed as a special deputy directing traffic on a Thruway intersection, is in the Kingston Hospital with a broken leg, suffered early this morning, according to a report at the sheriff's office.

The report said Fitzgerald, employed by the Brewster Company, which has a contract on the Thruway, apparently became suddenly ill on his job at the intersection of the Eddyville road and Route 32, and fell down a 30-foot embankment, landing in a brook about a foot deep.

Fitzgerald was removed in the Schultz ambulance to Kingston Hospital.

County Investigator Arthur H. Brown is continuing an investigation of the mishap.

Sentence Suspended, Faces New Charge

Frederick Brickows, 22, who gave his address as 89 South Manor avenue, this city, was given a 10-day suspended sentence in City Court today on a charge of allegedly talking with prisoners through a window at the county jail Friday night without consent.

According to the police report, Brickows was arrested about 10:30 p. m. Friday and turned over to local police authorities.

Following his arraignment before Special City Judge Harry Gold today, when he received his suspended sentence, Brickows was arrested by County Investigator Arthur H. Brown and Undersheriff Clayton Vredenburg on a charge of parole violation. The sheriff said that Brickows was a parolee from Elmira Reformatory.

Brickows, the report said, was returned to the county jail to await questioning by a parole officer.

Rubirosa Is Denied Permit to Work in U. S.

Los Angeles, July 24 (AP)—A permit to work in the United States was denied yesterday to Porfirio Rubirosa, Dominican Republic diplomat in this country on a visitor's visa.

He applied for the permit Thursday, saying he wanted to play a role in a western movie that will star Zsa Zsa Gabor, his present romantic interest.

District Director Herman R. Landon of the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service said the permit was denied because "conditions which would permit such employment have not been met." He declined to amplify.

Rubirosa has 10 days to appeal the ruling to the Immigration Commissioner in Washington.

Texans Vote Today

Dallas, Tex., July 24 (AP)—An expected million Texans cast their votes today in the state's primary elections in which most interest hinged on a bitter Democratic governor's campaign. Polls were open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. (CST). The principals in the main show—Gov. Allan Shivers and Atty. Ralph Yarborough—waited on election results at their homes. Shivers in Woodville, and Yarborough in Austin. The Republican candidate for governor, Todd R. Adams of Crockett, He, like Senate candidate Carlos Watson of Brownsville, has no opposition from Republicans. The GOP is holding its fourth primary in Texas history, forced into it when Shivers, running on both Democratic and Republican tickets, polled more than 200,000 votes in 1952.

Search Is Intensified

Phenix City, Ala., July 24 (AP)—Investigators hunting the phantom killer of A. L. Patterson intensified their search today in hope that witnesses kept silent by fear may talk now that Phenix City is under limited martial law. There were encouraging signs in the first 24 hours after Gov. Gordon Persons stripped Phenix City police and Russell County sheriff's office of all authority and replaced them with a battle-hardened National Guard troops.

Remains in Coma

New York, July 24 (AP)—Helene Jacobs, 19, the Chicago girl who survived what police called an apparent suicide pact with a college chum, remained in a coma today. Roosevelt Hospital said her condition continued critical. Jean Sommer, also 19, of Bergenfield, N. J., was found dead near Miss Jacobs in a gas filled midtown apartment last Wednesday. They were fellow students at Syracuse University.

Will Limit Attacks

Hanoi, Indochina, July 24 (AP)—French and Vietnamese delegates to the peace village of Trung Gia agreed today to limit military attacks on each other to regimental strength until the cease-fire goes into effect July 27. The agreement to stop large-scale fighting during the three-day interim was announced today by the French high command.

Cease-Fire Approved

Paris, July 24 (AP)—The French National Assembly approved the Indochina cease-fire last night by a sweeping 471-14 vote. An Assembly resolution, expressing satisfaction at the outcome of the Geneva Conference, said the cessation of hostilities was "due, in a large measure, to the decisive action" of Premier Mendes-France.

Elderly Woman Slain, Manhunt On for Grandson

Hammon, N. J., July 24 (AP)—An autopsy early today indicated that an elderly woman, tentatively identified as the grandmother of a former mental patient who is the target of a feverish manhunt, was stabbed and shot to death.

Burlington county Coroner Russell Stoddard said the victim believed to be Mrs. Ellen A. Scott, 78, suffered multiple wounds of the head and body, apparently inflicted by 22 caliber bullets and a German bayonet.

A 22 caliber rifle and a blood-flecked bayonet were found in the abandoned car of her grandson, Allen Bodine Scott, 29, who has been missing since Sunday when he was last seen driving off with Mrs. Scott.

State police spurred their hunt for the one-time mental patient in this sparsely settled South Jersey area and advised police in Scott's old haunts in New Jersey, Florida and Mississippi to be on the lookout for him.

The 24-hour armed guard was maintained at the Ocean City home of wealthy yachtman Russell E. Cramer, president of the Radio Condenser Co., of Camden and a distant relative of the fugitive.

A 22 caliber bullet was fired into Cramer's home Sunday night a few hours after Scott and his grandmother disappeared from her home in the nearby community of Lower Bank.

Scott has been hunting him for money for the past seven years and once tried to kidnap his daughter, Jeanne, while she was a co-ed at the University of Rochester, N. Y. Scott was confined in a mental institution for about two and a half years after the incident.

Heller Resignation Announced Today

Washington, July 24 (AP)—Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) announced in the House early today the resignation of Rep. Louis B. Heller (D-N.Y.) who became a judge in New York city two days ago.

Heller's resignation from Congress was effective last Wednesday. On Thursday he was sworn in as an Associate Justice of the Court of Special Sessions, a post to which he was appointed by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Martin read a letter announcing Heller's resignation and said a similar one was sent to Governor Dewey of New York. The letter did not mention Heller's new appointment or give any reason for leaving Congress.

Heller was elected to the 81st Congress on Feb. 15, 1949, in a special election to fill the seat left vacant by the death of John J. Delaney. He was reelected to the 82nd and 83rd Congresses. Heller was a member of the Interstate Foreign Commerce Committee.

Conclusions Reached On Indochina Peace

Washington, July 24 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration has now reached two basic conclusions about the Indochina peace settlement at Geneva:

1. If the United States and its allies act quickly and decisively they can take military, political and economic measures which should save the rest of Indochina from Communist conquest either by a new open aggression or by subversion.

2. Just because Russia and Red China agreed to an Indochina settlement, this does not provide any basis for believing the Communists will now agree to desirable Korean, German and Austrian settlements or to disarmament and atomic bomb control systems.

These points stood out in a news conference held by Secretary of State Dulles late yesterday near the end of a hectic week in international affairs.

Protege Is Arrested

New York, July 24 (AP)—A protege of the Bronx "master matinee burglar"—Arthur Manes, who is now awaiting action by a grand jury—was arrested yesterday as he was casing a Bronx apartment building. The burglar, Charles Potter, 25, a former Florida cab driver and admitted narcotics addict, had been sought by police for more than two weeks. He was booked on charges of burglary and possession of burglar's tools.

Police said Potter admitted about 50 apartment burglaries in the Bronx since last April, all committed between 1 and 3 p. m. He told police he entered apartments only in recently erected buildings, using a ring of about a dozen keys.

Holds Ocean Floor Record

Miami, Fla., July 24 (AP)—Skip driver Ed Fisher holds the world endurance record for camping on the ocean floor 24 hours and 2 minutes. He was still a bit tired today from the unusual underwater experience, but apparently suffered no lasting ill effects. The lanky 26-year-old, a native of New York, said he did not intend to repeat the experiment in the near future. But he and his surface associates were jubilant over the outcome.

Mormons Jailed

Vienna, July 24 (AP)—A court at Brno, Czechoslovakia, recently sentenced 14 members of the Mormon Church to prison terms ranging from three to eight years, the Free Europe Committee announced today. The Mormons were accused of having printed and distributed illegal leaflets in Czechoslovakia, the committee said.

in track and field events and for many years held the New York state interscholastic mile record.

When Mel Sheppard, the first United States winner of the 1908 Olympics in Europe, Murphy raced him to a dead heat in a track meet at Syracuse. He was also widely known as a star semi-professional basketball player in the era of the net and possession basketball.

Funeral Monday

The funeral will be held from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home, 176 Broadway, on Monday at 9:30 a. m. thence to St. Mary's Church where a high Mass of requiem will be offered at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Friends May Call at the Funeral Home Between the Hours of 2 and 5 and 7 and 9 p. m.

Police said the longshoreman, 26-year-old Salvatore Failla of 266 E. 154th street, died at a hospital after a husky ironworker who was passing by helped stop the fight.

Special Patrolman John H. Green, on duty at Melrose Houses, a Bronx housing project, said he tried to break up the dice game after tenants complained of the noise.

He said Failla and others attacked him, knocked him down and kicked him. He fired one warning shot, he said, then shot Failla in the chest.

Asst. Bronx Dist. Atty. Francis T. Murphy said the dice game was not on the housing project property, where Green had jurisdiction as a housing authority policeman, but was across the street.

He said Green had ordered one of the crowd around the players to call a city policeman but was jeered and then attacked.

South Still Swelters

(By The Associated Press)

Pleasant summer weather prevailed over the northern two-thirds of the nation today, but the far southern plains still sweltered in plus 100-degree heat.

Officer Cleared;

War 2, testified in his own defense.

Denied Issuing Orders

He denied issuing orders for the long formation, for water to be thrown on men who had fainted, or for the sick men to be returned to the formation.

Other defense witnesses backed up what Morgan said.

Pvt. John Adler, 26, of Rye, testifying for the defense, said he didn't hear Morgan issue any orders or see him in the area.

Accuses Noncom

But, the Dartmouth College graduate accused Witbeck, 24, of being "very dictatorial and almost tyrannical."

"He is a rather sadistic individual," Adler said of Witbeck, adding that he (Adler) thought that Witbeck gave the order to keep the men at attention in the heat.

Witbeck, who will be tried by a separate court-martial board, was called to the witness stand to clear up some conflicting statements, but he said he did not wish to testify and was excused.

Long Hours . . .

to help backward nations, and retained clauses giving Congress close control of what he does.

It became increasingly obvious, as the House raced through the Senate-stalled measure, that it was writing the measure along the very lines which Senate Democrats have found most distasteful.

This foreshadowed possible trouble in Senate-House conference if and when the Senate gets through its work on the bill, and perhaps another Senate go-round should the conferees decide in favor of disputed House amendments.

For the most part during the early-morning hours Senate speedmaking dragged on with few instances of heated debate.

Morse was asked questions from time to time by the half dozen or so haggard senators keeping a floor vigil when they doubtless would rather have been in bed.

As during the two previous all-night sessions, a dozen or more visitors looked down from Senate galleries that at times in yesterday's debate had been full to overflowing.

Wheat Vote Means

their produce compared with their production costs. But farmers would have been able to grow as much wheat as they wished.

The unofficial totals—complete, official figures won't be available for three or four weeks—show that 185,801 farmers voted for the control program and 71,303 against. One year ago
